This action is responsive to the communication filed July 29, 2008.

The substitute specification is accepted with appreciation.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 9-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stumpmeier, of record.

Stumpmeier shows a modular valve system where lines A, B, F, P, and T are read as analogous to lines 14 and the lines connecting to the valves are read as analogous to lines 12. Stumpmeier includes distributor modules disposed in transverse bores 8 along the lines A, B, F etc. which can provide different connections and functions including connecting adjacent lines, any of which can be designated "dummy" components. The provision of the particular configuration recited in claim 1 is considered to be an obvious step in view of the flexibility disclosed by Stumpmeier. The use of well known components such as pressure gauges or 3/2 valves with the apparatus of Stumpmeier is considered an obvious step. The choice of a tank having a specified capacity to serve a particular installation is an obvious matter of design choice.

Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues, apparently, that there are no "dummy components" in Stumpmeier analogous to 20 of the application. However, 20 is a component that connects adjacent lines 14. If A, B, F, P, and T are analogous to lines 14, then the modules in bore 8 such as are shown at the leftmost position in Figure 5 of Stumpmeier will fairly respond to the cited claim recitation because it will connect lines A, B, F, T, and/or P. Further, the valves attached to the manifold for supplying and exhausting fluid are also “dummy components” and also respond to the cited claim recitation.

It is further noted that the “dummy components” are disclosed as modular components which can be replaced with other modular components. It is the nature of all of the modular systems of record that the components can be replaced; this is one of the defining features of modular systems.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
